

A wide diversity of Cornish art

Plain speaking

Goldfish in Penzance is showing 'Simple Truths', paintings by Joy Wolfenden Brown this month. Explaining the show's title Joy says: "My paintings invariably come about when I am sidetracked from my mission to do a good painting and I am caught, once again, not painting anything especially grand but telling simple truths." Although modest in describing her work, Joy's previous shows at Goldfish have been popular, with her work selling quickly.

"I think that this year more than any other I have come to understand the importance of painting as a container and conveyor of silence," says Joy.

Info 'Simple Truths' runs from 5 - 27 September at Goldfish, Chapel Street, Penzance. Call 01736 360573 or visit www.goldfishfineart.co.uk for more details.

